

RISKY PLACES

for crime – seminar series 2021

21st January 2021 – 18th November 2021
Thursdays 17:30 CET

Crime does not occur randomly, it tends to be concentrated in places that are 'risky'. These places include a range of settings such as convenience stores, parks, and transit stations, even confined to particular street corners, depending on the crime. However, our understanding of the places and settings that attract disproportionately high levels of crimes is still in its infancy. In this seminar series, we invite prominent national and international scholars to offer us their perspective on the nature of risky places for crime and policy responses in different contexts.

NOTTINGHAM
TRENT UNIVERSITY

Organised by KTH-Safeplaces Network
& NTU-Criminology Department

RISKY PLACES

for crime – seminar series 2021

21st January 2021
Thursday 17:30 CET

RISKY FACILITIES:
Advancing theory and making difference in practice

LINK to the Webinar

https://kth-se.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN\_8iGicsHCQZKSQnvquV-J7w

Organised by KTH-Safeplaces Network
& NTU-Criminology Department

Prof. JOHN ECK University of Cincinnati, USA

Speakers: January-February 2021

PROF JOHN ECK

Risky facilities: Advancing theory and making difference in practice

21 JANUARY

PROF PATRICIA BRANTINGHAM

Beyond crime generators and attractors

28 JANUARY

PROF KATE BOWERS

Crime absorbers, crime radiators as risky places

4 FEBRUARY

DR BETH HARDIE

Risky actions and risky places: Studying person-environment interaction

11 FEBRUARY